University To Close
If Negroes AppearIntegration
Will Cut Off
College Funds

ATLANTA (AP)—The University of Georgia continued operating on a segregated basis today because two Negroes ordered admitted by a federal court failed to show up for classes.

"The moment they appear on campus, pay their registration fees and walk into a classroom Gov. Ernest Vandiver will sign an order for immediate closure of the university," an unimpeachable source close to the chief executive told The Associated Press.

ASK STAY OF INTEGRATION
WASHINGTON (AP)—A petition asking a stay of integration for the University of Georgia was presented to Justice Hugo Black of the Supreme Court this morning.

There was no indication when the justice would act. A stay request was made by Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook of Georgia, who flew to Washington from Atlanta.

This source explained that integration actually begins only when they report at a classroom. Then a state law cutting off funds becomes operative.

Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, the Negroes who seek to further their education at Georgia, were reported in Atlanta this morning. It was learned that Holmes had been scheduled to appear at 9 a.m. class, but did not appear.

In the absence of the Negroes and an official order from Vandiver, fewer than normal white students presented themselves for first classes at 8 a.m.

At the university, President O. C. Aderhold went into conference with the school's administrative council. They were awaiting word.

The Economy —

Kennedy Administration's
Plans For 'New Frontier'

Kennedy Plans and Problems II: The Economy

Editor's note — President-elect John F. Kennedy faces two major economic problems as he prepares for his inauguration next week. One is a recession at home. The other is continuing flow of U.S. gold abroad. Here's a report on his likely approach toward the two big economic issues, second in a five-part series on plans and problems of the new administration. It is written by an Associated Press reporter who specializes in business and economics news beats in the nation's capital.

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—As a presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy urged a faster-growing economy. As the president, his first problem will be to make it grow. The economy hasn't been growing at all since mid-1960. It has slipped into its fourth recession since World War II and most forecasters see little hope of an upturn before spring or summer.

Determined to hurry the recovery, Kennedy is expected to unveil an antirecession program soon after he is inaugurated on Jan. 20. Even as he does so, however, Kennedy will keep one eye peeled over his shoulder at the second major economic problem he will inherit—the whopping deficits in the U.S. balance of international payments.

With Americans and their government paying out more money abroad than they receive, foreigners are collecting extra dollars with which they can buy American goods. The payments deficit approached $4 billion in 1960 and gold sales to foreigners hit $1.9 billion.

Dealing with this problem cannot be postponed, because it is causing foreign anxiety about the future of the dollar, the keystone in the free world economy. A sour dollar obviously would wreck Kennedy's plans for enhancing the nation's prestige, not to speak of other effects.

Were the Eisenhower administration remaining in office, its attack on the recession might be inhibited to an important extent by the gold problem.

Eisenhower backers say, for example, that such traditional recession cures as pump priming (red ink spending by Uncle Sam) might worsen the gold situation by leaning in the direction of inflation. Rising prices would make it more difficult to sell U.S. goods abroad and earn the money that could reduce the payments deficit and buttress the dollar.

Kennedy, while deeply concerned about the gold-payments problem, will give first priority to the recession. He is expected to prime the economic pump, probably through a speedup in defense spending and road building, stimulation of housing and expanded unemployment benefits.

President Eisenhower has planned for a balanced budget in the coming fiscal year, and Kennedy has declared himself generally in favor of that objective, too. Whether it can be achieved, however, seems certain to hinge on

U.S. Maneuvers Add
Fire To Cuban Claims

By RICHARD VALERIANI
HAVANA (AP)—Annual maneuvers by the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps in the Caribbean gave new impetus to Fidel Castro's nationwide invasion alert today. A high official said all Cuba is under the equivalent of martial law.

Mobilization of military and labor forces throughout the island was speeded as Castro's regime prepared for an invasion it insists is coming from the United States by Jan. 18.

The government radio announced three members of the Cuban armed forces including a prominent Cuban Communist, Osvaldo Sanchez Cabrera, were killed in a plane crash at the north coast resort of Varadero. The Communist newspaper Hoy hinted, however, that this may have come from fire of Cuban defense forces.

Sanchez Cabrera apparently was on a militia duty. More soldiers took battle stations along Havana's seaford Malecon Drive. Militiamen dug more trenches in public parks and gardens along the ocean.

U.S. officials in Washington and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, denied there was aggressive intent behind the maneuvers, which started Monday. The Marines will train on Vieques Island, off the coast of Puerto Rico and about 137 miles east of Havana. While ships of the maneuver force will call from time to time at the U.S. Navy base on Guantanamo Bay, the Navy said, the exercise had been planned some time ago.

The government-controlled Cuban press denounced the naval activity as warmongering and provocative.

"Frensa Libre" said the maneuvers were designed to encourage counter-revolutionaries "supplied by the Pentagon and Central Intelligence Agency" in case their enthusiasm had dampened by Cuba's display of military might in a huge parade in Havana Jan. 2.

The maneuvers would serve as a "covering play" for ships and planes bringing invaders, the newspapers charged.

The semi-official "Revolucion" charged the United States is mining Guantanamo Bay and unloading large quantities of medicine at the base.

"Revolucion" said the U.S. supercarrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, which visited Guantanamo Bay Monday will be incorporated with several destroyers into a combat unit to be stationed in the area.

During 1960, the Treasury stockpile was reduced by 51 million ounces and on Jan. 1 stood at 123 million ounces. So far this month, there has been a further reduction of more than 1 million ounces. At this rate, the supply would be gone by mid-1963.

Should the stockpile run dry, the Treasury would lose its power to dictate the price of silver. Furthermore, since the stockpile also furnishes the 40 million ounces used each year to mint new U.S. coins, the department would have to go into the market to buy silver.

In the present supply and demand situation, the price of silver would rise if the Treasury ceiling were broken. The upward price pressure stems largely from strikes which cut production in 1959 and 1960, coupled with big silver purchases by France which had adopted a heavy silver franc. In addition, the mint is using more silver for coinage and industrial uses are expanding.

One reason the Treasury hasn't been anxious to boost its fixed price is that the biggest benefits would go to foreigners. The United States uses about 100 million ounces of silver a year, of which about 65 million ounces are imported.

In Knoxville, John David Holdrege, 35, of Mascot, Tenn., and Michael Hugh Compton, 21, of Knoxville, were arrested by the FBI Monday on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Dayton detective Lt. Richard C. Grundish said Holden told the FBI that he and an unidentified man found Compton in a Dayton hotel room with a man's body.

Whetstone was a consulting engineer for the Alexander Proudfoot Co. of Chicago. He had been in Dayton about a month, working on a scheduling study for the city bus line.

HOPE HEADS BACK TO GOLF COURSE
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's back to the golf course for Bob Hope today and an eastern tour of benefits is on tap for next week.

Hope dropped out of a golf tournament last week, complaining of dizziness. But it was fatigue, he says, and nothing more.

Over the weekend, he was busy editing the tape of his Wednesday night NBC-TV show made during his recent holiday tour of U.S. bases in the Caribbean.

The comedian's doctor wants him away from his Toluca Lake home for awhile. The office of the Hope Enterprises is on the property and it's hard for the boss to rest with work nearby.

He'll rest and golf this week in Palm Springs. Sunday he takes off for St. Louis—and a benefit.

Report U.S.
Assisting
GuatemalaArm For Possible
Clash With Cuba

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is supplying Guatemala with training personnel, material and other assistance in the preparation of a commando-type force for a possible clash with Cuba, the New York Times reported today.

A dispatch by Paul P. Kennedy from Retalhuleu, near the southwest coast of Guatemala, said the United States also helped finance the construction of a nearby airfield where intensive daily air training is going on.

"Guatemalan authorities from President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes on down insist that the military effort is designed to meet an assault, expected almost any day, from Cuba," said the dispatch.

"Opponents of the Ydigoras administration have insisted that the preparations are for an offensive against Cuba and that it is being planned and directed, and to a great extent being paid for, by the United States."

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa charged in the U.N. Security Council last week that training camps for "mercenaries" for use against Cuba were operating in Guatemala and elsewhere. He complained that the United States was planning an invasion of Cuba at almost any hour.

President Ydigoras previously charged that a frustrated uprising in Guatemala last November was aided by Cubans. At his request, President Eisenhower sent U.S. naval and air patrols off Guatemala's coast to prevent any invasion of the country.

The U.S. Embassy in Guatemala City is maintaining complete silence on the activity at Retalhuleu, Kennedy said.

Ike's Tribute
Boosts Nixon's
Political Stock

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's political stock has been strengthened by a birthday tribute in which President Eisenhower led the cheering section.

The occasion was a 48th anniversary celebration Monday night at which Eisenhower praised the defeated 1960 presidential candidate for services "invaluable to government." He said Nixon was "a warm friend."

More than 1,000 Republicans paid $12.50 per seat for a dinner party honoring Nixon and his wife. The party, sponsored by the Republican Capitol Hill Club, was held in a downtown hotel.

Nixon, who lost one of history's closest presidential contests in November to John F. Kennedy, assured his admirers he would do everything in his power for the Republican party in the years ahead.

He said that while "nothing succeeds like success in political life," he was grateful for the people who came to shake his hand and urge him to continue his leadership of the Republican party.

"We lost the election," he said, "but I find here tonight not people who care whether you win or lose, but people who are our friends."

The President, in a buoyant mood, told the diners he had expected to stay only a short time. He said he expected "short stay" after which they will throw me out after the soup."

But he stayed on for 3½ hours, explaining he was hungry and wanted to be around for all of the party. And, he added, if he left early he wouldn't get to make a speech.

Nixon was obviously pleased at Eisenhower's assertion that he had been one of the mainstays on his administration and a personal helper. The President pointed out that he came primarily to express personal appreciation for Nixon's willingness to undertake any chore.

Fierce War Of Words—

Conference On Aging
Sifting Proposals

By RAY HENRY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House Conference on Aging today gets down to the business of sifting recommendations that eventually will be turned over to President-elect John F. Kennedy and to Congress.

As the conference broke into many small work groups, a fierce war of words over medical care of older people hung in the air.

The battle started Monday. Heading the opposing forces were George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and a spokesman for the American Medical Association.

Meany drew first blood in a speech he had prepared for Monday night by restating the AFL-CIO's support for a Social Security health insurance plan for the aged and accusing the AMA of spending two years "in negative and hostile criticism" of the plan.

Before Meany's speech was delivered and after seeing an advance text, the AMA fired back.

Dr. J. Lade Ludwig, chairman of the AMA's Council of Medical Service, said: "Some labor leaders obviously are more interested in saddling the people of this country with a system of socialized medicine than they are in helping those older people who really need help."

Ludwig said Meany was "attempting to undermine (the conference) to further his own partisan interests."

When Meany delivered his speech he noted the AMA's charges and said with a smile: "May I appeal to you, ladies and gentlemen, please don't have the conference fail. I'd hate to carry this responsibility."

Five minutes after the alarm was received for the rooming house fire, a fire was reported in a nearby building where a basement blaze had been extinguished earlier.

Fire roared through an apartment house Christmas Day killing three women. A man was fatally injured when he leaped from a third floor porch to escape flames.

Another blaze Dec. 29 killed one man.

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Police had only slim hopes of finding a clue in the murder of a coed whose body was found Monday, six weeks after she disappeared.

The girl, Beverly Ann Allan, 19, Port Townsend, Wash., apparently was killed a few hours after her boyfriend died in a fight with someone who ambushed them in a wooded lover's lane near Portland, Nov. 26.

Her boyfriend, Larry Ralph Peyton, 19, Portland, was stabbed to death. His body was found Nov. 27.

The body of Miss Allan, a Washington State University sophomore, was found beside a highway 37 miles west of Portland. Police said it apparently had been tossed from the road down a steep slope.

A highway crew, cutting roadside brush, found the body.

To Fill
Vacancies
In Cabinet

By Stan Koven

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner's Democratic regime, born at the climax of a fierce power struggle between Democrats and Republicans in the Illinois House, took a few quiet first steps today.

Almost in a mood of anticlimax to a stormy inauguration day, the softspoken new governor calmly approached the task of getting his administration off the ground.

Informal conferences were arranged with Kerner's aides to solidify his legislative program and to aid him in filling the last seven vacancies in his cabinet.

Outside of the blue-carpeted executive offices on the Statehouse second floor, the air was anything but calm. A smoldering feud between Democrat Paul Powell and House Republicans threatened to make the six-month session a turbulent one.

The latest flareup, a few hours before Kerner's inauguration Monday, delayed the swearing-in procedure nearly an hour.

In the boldest power play of his rough-and-tumble career, Powell emerged from the House session as the first minority speaker in the history of the chamber.

The Vienna Democrat, who won the speakership with Republican help in 1959, was re-elected with support of all 33 Democrats and one rebel Republican.

Rep. Walter McAvoy of Chicago was jeered by fellow Republicans when he cast his ballot for Powell rather than for the GOP caucus choice, Rep. William E. Pollock of Chicago.

Pollock, still chafing over the 89-85 defeat, conferred with supporters after the session. They discussed possible disciplinary measures to be taken against McAvoy and two other GOP members—Peter J. Miller and Michael F. Zlatnik, both of Chicago.

Miller was absent from the session, reporting he was ill, and Zlatnik voted "present" on the speakership roll call—in effect a vote against Pollock, known as "Big Daddy" in the House.

Asked if the three would be purged from the GOP ranks, Pollock snapped: "They've purged themselves. They set this session (Continue on page 7)

106 Farm Sales In One Month

(From The Bloomington Pantagraph)

If, as some economists have claimed, a major factor in the farm problem is simply too many farmers, the problem for this area appears to be headed toward solution.

The published list of coming auction sales on our farm page one day this month totaled 106 in Central Illinois during January.

On the basis of the listing alone, it appears that about 70 farm operators are quitting this month. That many sale notices are clearly labeled "closing out sale."

Six more are identified as closing out dairy enterprises only. It would take a lot of checking to get the whole picture. For example, some of the sales no doubt are the result of deaths and previous retirement with equipment just now being liquidated.

An interview with just one of the men advertising a close out might indicate what is happening. This man has been operating about 200 acres and a small dairy enterprise within 15 miles of Bloomington.

He told us he just couldn't make enough profit to justify keeping the business (land was rented). He said the project was too big for him to operate alone, but couldn't support a full-time year around hired man. So he has bought a house in town and will look for other employment to fill the time for six years he has to wait for Social Security.

Marilyn's Estranged Husband Finds Writing 'Rewarding Life'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Hate is all right if you know how to resolve it into love, but it will kill you if you have to live with it," said playwright Arthur Miller. After separating two months ago from his actress wife, Marilyn Monroe, Miller moved into a hotel suite.

On a table in the living room rests the published script of a movie he wrote, costarring Miss Monroe, Clark Gable and Montgomery Clift. Originally a short story, it is based on material Miller gained during a stay in Reno, where he obtained a divorce from his first wife before marrying Marilyn in 1956. The new book version has this dedication: "To Clark Gable, who did not know how to hate." "Actually, Clark did know how to hate," said Miller, "but in a short time it was dissolved. He was a wonderfully positive man. 'Clark could keep the balance so well. I never knew anyone like him.'"

Miller, a lanky man with furrowed Lincoln-like features that crinkle often in a friendly grin, worked as a stock clerk to earn money to go to college. He wrote his first play at 19, turned out 10 failures before clicking with "All My Sons" in 1947. The dramatist, who won a Pulitzer Prize with "Death of a Salesman," quit Hollywood because "I couldn't stand anyone looking over my shoulder." He finds writing a lonely but rewarding life. "The greatest pleasure anyone can have is to create something beautiful."

Miller says he isn't sure what his philosophy is — or even that he has one. "I follow my nose in a situation," he said. "I hope I'm a civilized man — and that's about as far as I can go."

"I think we know a great deal about everything except how to live together, and I suppose my plays are an attempt to unearth what is preventing us from doing that. 'We've developed a world which is great for everybody but people. It produces a lot of goods, but it doesn't let people flower and realize themselves.'"

Asked his opinion of the current American theater, he said crisply: "It stinks. It's in a by-way."

"It isn't dealing with the cogent theme of our times, the problem we are all up against. That problem is the dilemma between individualism that can become anarchy and conformity that can turn us all into human ciphers."

"It is not enough any longer merely to deny conformity or exalt individualism. 'We have to create a new standard of values to accommodate ourselves to this dilemma.'"

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Striking a heavy blow against Hollywood custom, Sandra Dee announced today her marriage to Bobby Darin will be nobody's property but their own.

Sandra put her pretty foot down on sharing her honeymoon home with their millions of fans.

"I figure I was Sandra Dee and he was Bobby Darin before we were married," she said. "I'm still Sandra Dee and he's still Bobby Darin, as far as our careers are concerned. But we're also husband and wife now. That is something new and apart from our careers, and I want to keep it that way."

"Home pictures? Oh, no. I wouldn't think of having photographers in our house. I know it will make a lot of people mad, but it's important that we keep our home life private."

Their careers will remain apart, she said, even though they met in traditional Hollywood style—on a movie set. It happened in Rome, where both were assigned to "Come September."

"During the first three months we never dated," she said. "We went out to dinner in Rome, but we were always accompanied by my mother, his brother-in-law, and my hardresser."

The Dee-Darin wedding — real names: Alexandra Zuck, Robert Casotto — was swift, but not unplanned. The announcement of engagement upon returning to New York Nov. 22, married secretly Dec. 2.

"We got married because it was the only time we knew we would have six weeks together," she said.

"There were such crowds at my hotel that I had to go up and down in the elevator with the garbage. The switchboard was so jammed with calls for me that the hotel wanted me to move. The only way we could have the wedding to ourselves was to do it quietly at a friend's apartment."

The Darins are now sharing a Bel-Air cottage, complete with housekeeper, swimming pool and guest house. Sandra admitted to cooking on weekends, but her repertoire is limited to stuffed cabbage and salad. "That's all my grandmother taught me."

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★ Background for House Battle On Rules Committee Reform

By PETER EDSON

Written For NEA

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—In the fight over reform of the House Rules Committee in the new Congress, the essential background is how the committee got its bad name.

Rep. Frank Thompson (D-N.J.) one of its most severe critics, charges that the House Rules Committee under Chairman Howard Smith (D-Va.) "runs the entire Congress."

Thompson further claims that Smith, in daily collaboration with Republican Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, keeps together the combination of Southern Democrats and Republican reactionaries by which the entire House is denied the right to vote on essential legislation.

There has been a Rules Committee ever since the first Congress in 1789, when there was only one other committee—ways and means—and the House had fewer than 100 members. All business was then done by the Committee of the Whole House.

From 1858 to 1910 the speaker himself was a rules committee member and he selected the other members. In 1880 it was made a standing committee with five members.

Rules committee powers were increased gradually from 1883 to 1890 when special orders for the consideration of all House business became its exclusive privilege.

By strict exercise of these powers the rules committee was able to sift the business coming from the other legislative committees and decide which bills could be considered on the House floor and in what order.

By forcing amendments to bills as a condition to giving them clearance for House action, the rules committee was able to substitute its own judgment for that of the legislative committees. In this way it became the House governing committee, exercising deliberate speed over hastily drawn and bad bills.

Then In The 1911 House Revolution against the dictatorial powers of Speaker "Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois, the committee was increased to 11—later to 12 members.

The revolution barred the speaker from membership but left the committee's own powers intact. In 1924 the committee chairman's authority to "pocket veto" bills approved by his committee was taken away from him. Later it was required that if a bill cleared by the committee is not called up for action within seven days, any member of the committee may ask that it be called up as a matter of privilege and the speaker must recognize him for this.

Another reform effected in 1910 was the discharge rule, which was amended in 1924 and 1926. This now provides that a petition signed by a majority of the House—219 members—can force the rules committee to clear the House action any measure it may be holding up.

The last reform of rules committee procedure was in 1949, when the 21-day rule was adopted. It provided that if a bill has been held up by the rules committee for more than 21 days, the chairman of the legislative committee that reported the bill can demand that it be taken up by the House on discharge day—second and fourth Mondays of each month. But this created a log jam and it was in effect only in 1949-50.

There is, however, one other important device by which rules committee bottlenecks may be broken. This is the "Calendar Wednesday" procedure which permits any reported bill to be called up. This privilege cannot be dispensed with unless the House gives unanimous consent.

The Rules Committee Functioned as the responsible agent for majority party control and for speeding enactment of administration programs until the New Deal. Then in 1937 three conservative Democrats joined with four Republicans for bipartisan control to curb Roosevelt reform proposals.

With the exception of the 80th Congress and the 83rd, which the Republicans controlled, the rules committee has been under bipartisan coalition majorities.

The committee's 12 members in the last Congress were divided roughly six conservative and six liberal. The conservatives are two southern Democrats and four Republicans. The six liberals are all Democrats. But some of them frequently cross over and vote with the conservatives. The votes are no votes, and this further serves to stymie legislation.

But a compilation by Rep. Thompson last year listed only 27 cases in which the rules committee had refused to clear major legislative measures in the last 12 years.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' new Senate leader, starts off on a breezy note of optimism. Before the end of this year, or even this month, he may feel a little less bouncy.

Speaking of the Senate—where his Democrats far outnumber the Republicans—Mansfield said: "I look forward to a period of harmony and unity."

The first test of both harmony and unity is coming in a hurry as the Senate gets down to examining and approving the men President-elect John F. Kennedy has chosen for his Cabinet.

Republican Douglas Dillon was scheduled for the first looking over, Wednesday. He was President Eisenhower's undersecretary of state and didn't make Republicans happy by accepting Kennedy's offer to make him secretary of the treasury.

The brilliant Dillon, who always got along with Congress, probably won't have any trouble getting approval. The actual approval, of course, must wait until after Kennedy is sworn in as president Jan. 20.

Between now and then various Senate committees will quiz Kennedy's Cabinet appointees and others he has chosen for key jobs as a preliminary to full Senate vote later.

Mansfield even predicted quick passage of the main parts of Kennedy's "new frontiers" program, with some help from the Republicans. It may turn out he'll need a lot of Republican help.

One of the first Kennedy choices likely to run into some rough going is Chester Bowles, designated for undersecretary of state.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told the New York Herald Tribune he and others would give Bowles the "closest scrutiny."

The reason: Bridges accuses Bowles of a "lot of double talk" on whether this country should recognize Red China.

In the Senate, some Southern Democrats have threatened to oppose Kennedy's nomination of Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, as director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Kennedy had pledged himself to end racial discrimination in government subsidized housing. Weaver, who hardly could do otherwise, since Kennedy picked him, promised to have the same attitude.

Home builders in the South might lose some money if the government sought to withhold funds from construction unless whites and Negroes could live side by side in it.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrat, announced opposition to Weaver, although he didn't say it was because Weaver is a Negro. Robertson is chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee which will examine Weaver.

The unity which Mansfield sees may in the end prevail but it is unlikely to be harmonious.

I would like to see the term "juvenile delinquency" banished forever from our language as a description for vicious acts.

—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, criticizing "muddle-headed sentimentalists."

Precautions in Protecting Infants' Eyes and Ears

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for NEA

The eyes and ears of infants are delicate structures. Each may be threatened and their functional capacities impaired or even destroyed by acts of carelessness that many of us commit without realizing the possible consequences of what we are doing.

Transmission of the herpes virus to young babies through kissing has recently been held responsible for an eye infection (viral conjunctivitis) that occasionally results in blindness.

According to Sir Stewart Duke Elder, a leading English ophthalmologist, newly introduced antibiotics have eliminated most of the bacteria that used to cause infantile conjunctivitis. As a result, the herpes virus, which is resistant to all "miracle drugs," has become increasingly dangerous to the new born who have few protective antibodies with which to fight off a lowly organism that usually can do no more than produce a "cold sore" on the lip of the kisser.

Since baby kissing is an act of affection only to the kisser, it would not seem too unreasonable to request well-wishers to bestow their herpes organisms on the sole of the infant's foot. Particularly if they are suffering from an upper respiratory infection of any kind.

Bottle-feeding infants, while they are lying flat or propped up insufficiently, has been held responsible for ear infections by a group of New Zealand pediatricians. Over a 7-year period, a group of reliable observers has collected a series of 242 babies whose middle ear infections are attributed to the position of the child during feeding. (positional otitis media). And according to this study, both prematurely and nasal obstruction from whatever cause add materially to the risk.

As a natural conclusion to their study, the New Zealand group advises mothers to feed their infants in the upright position until they are at least three months old. And for a longer time if the baby was premature or if it suffers from nasal obstruction.

Since neither of these recommendations requires any great sacrifice on the part of any of us, there seems no valid excuse not to heed them.

Who rises from prayer a better man, his prayer is answered.—George Meredith.

City Council Returns To Action; Primary Ordinance is Read

Back on the job after a three weeks vacation during the holidays, the city council got down to business again last night by hearing first reading of the primary election ordinance, adopting a resolution of appreciation for the service rendered by Frederick Harris Rowe who resigned from the council to become a member of the Illinois House of Representatives, and transacting other business.

Reports of committees showed that no pressing business came before the various committees during the lapse of regular meetings.

The invocation was offered by Rev. William J. Boston, pastor of the Litterberry Baptist church, before the council moved into its reports and deliberations.

City Attorney William T. Wilson read the ordinance calling the city primary election for Feb. 28, at which time both parties will nominate candidates for Mayor, City Clerk, Treasurer, Police Magistrate, and seven Aldermen, one in each ward.

A number of petitions for the various candidates have already been filed. Final day for filing is Saturday, Jan. 14.

Discusses Rescue Equipment

Joe Sullivan, a member of the fire department, and chairman of a committee appointed by Mayor DuBois to promote the establishment of a Rescue Squad, conferred with the council in regard to storage of equipment, should purchases be made. He pointed out that valuable equipment should not be placed in sheds or other out-of-the-way locations, but should have safe and easily accessible quarters.

Sullivan estimated that cost of a full-scale Rescue unit might run as much as $12,000, but that the price might be cut to $7,000 or $8,000 with the cooperation of the Civil Defense organization. Control of the equipment would then be under Civil Defense, he said. Alderman Mathews of the finance department presented a resolution to transfer $137,000 from the motor fuel tax fund to the public benefit fund, to be used in part payment of the cost of paving Lincoln avenue from Morton to Mound avenues. Thirty per cent of the cost of the improvement will be met by special assessments against property. The resolution passed on motions by Aldermen Mathews and Schulz.

Mathews reported the receipt of $16,560 from the Sheriff's office, the last payment for 1960 taxes. He said the city received $80,742.04 tax money from the county this year.

Alderman Grojean of the highway committee said several inquiries have been received because not much salt was spread on icy streets during the past cold weather. Grojean said the salt is not effective unless the temperature is above 15 degrees.

Several invoices for materials for the light department were given an official OK on motions of Aldermen Hocking and Johnson.

Commend Rowe For Service

The resolution commending State Rep. Frederick Harris Rowe of the 49th District for his service as a councilman was introduced by Alderman Hocking, newly-appointed chairman of the light committee, and passed by unanimous vote. It expressed the council's gratitude for his devoted service to the City of Jacksonville, while he served on numerous committees.

Reporting for the police and traffic committees, Alderman Burdett discussed a recommendation for protective measures at Edgell and Park street, where a series of collisions have occurred in recent months. His report was followed by an urgent request by Alderman Hocking that action be taken to eliminate the danger.

Discussion brought out that the traffic committee favors erection

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst
President Charles de Gaulle's referendum on Algeria has not proved to be the decisive step toward settlement for which he asked.

The voters in France are willing to go along with his proposal for self-government pending establishment of autonomous institutions and what De Gaulle hoped would eventually become an Algerian republic within the French Union providing guarantees for the minority French colony.

A majority of voting Moslems in Algiers take a similar stand. But vast numbers of them didn't vote—as per rebel instructions—giving clear testimony to the rebel demand for complete independence.

Many in France did the same. The French leftists voted against De Gaulle, and so did the Algerian French. Under heavy pressure from the Army in Algeria, the Algerians nevertheless voted no in the districts of Algiers and Oran.

Now this deviation makes one thing clear. The rebel forces hold the negotiating power for Algeria, and De Gaulle for France. It is just as well to speak of them separately, for they are separate except in word, and negotiations can only determine how separate they are going to be in the future.

In this respect, it may turn out that the strength of the so-called rebel government has been increased by the referendum, and certainly the lines of the opposing forces have been drawn more clearly, instead of being diffused around De Gaulle.

The very fact that the army exerted so much pressure in the Algerian districts which voted for De Gaulle will serve to weaken the meaning of that vote for the outside world. And this will be linked to the fact that the vote in the cities, where the army has less control, was so different.

This raises two questions.

How much more time will the world be willing to grant for attainment of De Gaulle's program—a vague one at best—before it turns away from hope of a French solution and begins demanding a world solution?

How much longer will De Gaulle be able to command the middle of the road against the onslaughts?

South Side Circle Hears Of Jane Addams

Mrs. F. M. Simmons entertained the South Side Circle at her home, 1306 South East Street, January 6. Thirteen members and one guest, Mrs. Arnold Burke, were present.

The president, Mrs. J. E. Underbrink, opened the meeting with a new year's meditation and a short business meeting.

Mrs. Schoedsack, program chairman, presented Mrs. W. E. Hall who gave a most informative talk on Jane Addams.

Miss Addams, a great social reformer, founded Hull House, a pioneer social settlement in the old Hull mansion in Chicago on the west side. In this large settlement, she worked with labor and other reform groups for many welfare laws, such as tenement houses, regulations, factory inspection and any cause of a reforming nature. She used her influence for social justice for the immigrant, the Negro and the rights of women. Her life was one of self-sacrifice for peoples of all classes.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the Triple Flame on January 20 at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Harrison Weaver will be hostess.

Take a look at the South hand and the bidding only. Would you ever double West's three spade bid with that South hand? Surely never in rubber bridge. The odds against you are too great. You risk losing game and rubber to pick up a possible extra 100 points because surely you will never set West two tricks.

How about at match point duplicate? The double is still a bad bid, but it can work out very well for you because the difference between plus 100 for setting West one trick undoubled and plus 200 for setting him doubled may amount to a great many match points.

When this hand was actually played at New York's Mayfair Club exactly one South player doubled a three spade contract. As you can see by looking at all the hands the double was successful. West lost three diamonds and two hearts and went down one trick.

South was pretty proud of his double until the scores came in. He remained proud of his double, but strangely enough it did him very little good.

Somehow or other, most South players landed at four hearts or some bidding series or other. Invariably West would open the king of spades. He would hold the trick; look dumbly over carefully; and then lead anything but a club. From that point on South would wrap up his game for a score of 420.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ A J 7 6 ♣ A 6 5 4 ♦ K Q J 10 ♣ 4

What do you do?
A—Bid three diamonds. A strong bid should be made and your heart suit is very weak.

HUGE STEER—Huge steer, weighing in at 3,000 pounds and standing 6 feet tall, is causing some sensation at Green Bay, Wisconsin. He is believed to be the largest steer in the U.S. since 1910. Eleven and one-half feet long animal was bought at auction in Belle Fourche, South Dakota by the Endlich Packing Co., and the Kroll Bar-B-Que Shop of Green Bay, who estimate ground up animal would make 8,500 hamburgers. Animal is cross-breed of Shorthorn and Holstein and is 7-years old. Perry Nolan of Aniwa, Wisconsin stands with steer. —NEA Telephoto

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through fibers... trapping more dirt than any other type of filter made.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminumized to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Luster Finish to make it glisten like new. It never needs waxing.

★ GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD ★

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It is the ambition of every Canadian kid to play with the Canadians, perennial world champions and the Yankees of hockey.

So you can imagine how Guy Gendron felt the last week of November when he was kicked up the entire flight of stairs from last-place Boston to Montreal, front running as usual in the glide to their sixth consecutive National Hockey League title.

All that and playing on an all-French line with Jean Beliveau and Boom Boom (what a nickname!) Geoffrion.

"Pinch me," says Smitty, as he is called, Gendron. "I can't believe it yet."

Although he scored 24 goals for the Bruins last season, Gendron, left-handed shooting left wing, got off poorly this winter. As the New York Rangers' brass did before it, the Boston brain trust grew disenchanted with the little guy's (five-nine and 157 pounds) performance.

For all his scrappiness and ability to score, Gendron didn't appear to be the brightest forward in the glistening game. He seemed to have a strange complex in doubting that he was formidable enough to play in the fastest company. He didn't make the good pass. He continued to collect too many cheap penalties.

But Gendron suddenly got lucky the night he joined the Habitants, stressing the fact that it isn't difficult to be touched by a magic wand when you're playing with Beliveau and Bernard Geoffrion, successor to Maurice The Rocket Richard as hockey's greatest scorer. The night Gendron reported at the Montreal Forum Dec. 1 he banged in the winning goal against the challenging Toronto Maple Leafs. That exceeded his total output during the first 24 games of the season with the Bruins in the bargain basement.

Now the line of Beliveau, Gendron and Geoffrion, jabbering to one another in French, is taking dead aim at the all-time record of goals scored in a season—105. That number was hung up in 50 games in the war year of 1944-45 by the celebrated Canadiens trio of The Rocket Richard, setting the individual mark at 50, and Toe Blake and Elmer Lach. There were some inferior athletes in opposing lineup, but the abbreviated schedule evened things up.

The line in hockey is comparable to the three ball-carrying backs in football and the third, fourth and fifth-place batting orders in baseball. They are paid to score.

With a little more than half of the season gone, the line of Beliveau, Gendron (suddenly transformed into a little windmill) and the fearsome Geoffrion, who now collects a $100 bonus every time he hits, is slightly below the 100-goal pace.

The Canadiens have a second line of little less stature. The second shift is composed of Dickie Moore, seeking his third league scoring championship, Henri Richard and Marcel Bonin.

The principal difference in the two attacking forces is that Coach Toe Blake switches one man.

This gives you a rough idea of just how rugged the Canadiens are.

Iowa Holds Off Wisconsin For 36-68 Decision

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The Iowa Hawkeyes staved off a Wisconsin challenge Monday night to win their second Big Ten basketball game 36-68.

It was the 10th victory for the Hawkeyes in 11 starts this season. Iowa had to pull out the victory while lacking the services of its two top scorers, Bob Nelson and Frank Allen, in the closing minutes of the contest. Allen, 6-foot-6 center, pumped in 11 field goals and two free throws for a total of 24 points before he fouled out with 4½ minutes left. Nelson was second high point man for Iowa with eight field goals and four free throws for a total of 20.

Nelson suffered a sprained foot and a deephead gash that forced him to quit the fight with 3½ minutes left.

But the Hawkeyes had already built up enough steam to carry them on to the triumph.

Buckeyes Rout Evansville, 86-59, Without Lucas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unbeaten and top-ranked Ohio State won its 11th straight this season, 86-59 over Evansville college Monday night, with All-America Jerry Lucas on the bench the entire game with a twisted knee.

The Buckeyes, who now have 16 straight over the last two seasons, clinched the game with a 10-point run at the start of the second half. This gave Ohio State a 49-29 lead while Evansville went scoreless for more than five minutes.

The Aces from Indiana stayed close in the first half with some long shooting against an Ohio State zone defense. Eight of 10 Evansville field goals in the first half were from long range.

Evansville led twice, briefly, and had a 20-20 tie with about 8½ minutes left to intermission. Ohio State, switching back to its conventional man-to-man defense, slowed the Aces' attack and gradually pulled away.

20 Year - Old Bonus Boy May Be Patrolling Ted Williams' Sector

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A 20-year-old bonus boy, only three years out of high school, may be patrolling the mighty Ted Williams' left field sector for the Boston Red Sox this season.

The youngster, now attending Notre Dame, is Carl Yastrzemski—pronounced yas-trzemskee—who has what Philadelphia Phillies Manager Gene Mauch calls "as sweet a swing as there is in baseball."

The 5-11, 175-pound outfielder, along with another youngster with only two years experience, infielder Charley Schilling, 22, are the brightest prospects to come up to the Red Sox in years. They not only are given a good chance to stick, but each is expected to blossom into a star of long standing.

The Red Sox shelled out a $100,000 bonus to Yastrzemski two years ago when he was a sophomore at Notre Dame. As a rookie with Raleigh in the Carolina League in 1959, he won the batting title with .377 and was voted the league's most valuable player.

Last year at Minneapolis, Yastrzemski led the American Association in hits and finished second in the batting race at .339, losing out for the title in the final week.

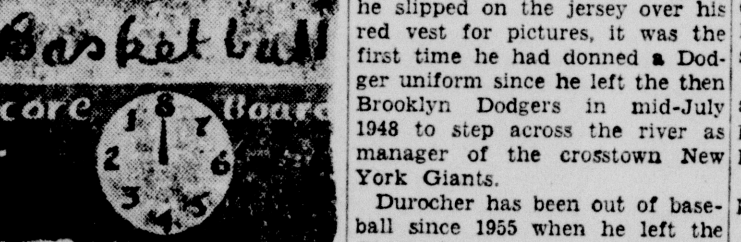

Schilling, according to Red Sox scout Bobby Doerr, is almost a cinch to make it at second base, which would leave the club with the problem of what to do with batting champ Pete Runnels. Last year at Minneapolis Schilling batted .310 and was the best fielding second baseman in the league.

In his only other season in pro ball, Schilling batted .340 at Al-Pine (Tex.) in the class D sophomore League.

Nine other rookies will train with the Red Sox. Four are first year players—pitchers Bob Carlson, Darrell Massey and Wilbur Wood, all left-handers, and outfielder Paul Jernigan. All are 19.

The best of the new pitchers may be Hal Koolstad, 25, a right-hander who had a 10-11 record with 3.45 earned run average at Minneapolis.

NEXT—Milwaukee Braves.

Durocher has been out of baseball since 1955 when he left the Giants for a television career. He made it plain, however, his continued absence from the diamond was not entirely of his own choosing. Recently he complained publicly that he apparently was on some kind of a black list because he was being passed up when management jobs cropped up.

Arrest 5 On Spying Charge In London

LONDON (AP)—Three men and two women charged with stealing British navy secrets for an unidentified foreign power appeared before a court Monday and were ordered held in close custody while Scotland Yard probes the case further.

At the preliminary court hearing Scotland Yard won an order to fingerprint three of them—bookseller Peter J. Kroger, 50; his wife Helen, 50; and Gordon A. Lonsdale, 37, who described himself as a company director. All three are believed to be Canadians, though this was not confirmed in court.

Detective Supt. George Smith, who led an eight-month inquiry by Scotland Yard and military intelligence, told the court the three had refused to give their fingerprints when first charged.

"We are not criminals," Mrs. Kroger told the magistrate. "Why should our fingerprints be taken?"

Magistrate K. J. P. Barraclough replied: "If you are found not to be criminals, they will be destroyed."

The two others charged are Henry F. Houghton, 55, and Ethel Gee, 46, civilian employees at the Royal Navy's Research Station at Portland Bill in the south of England. Portland is the headquarters of British underwater naval research.

The magistrate refused bail to the five and ordered them held in jail pending another court appearance next Monday.

Smith told the court how he arrested Houghton, Gee and Lonsdale Saturday outside famed Old Vic Theater.

"I saw Lonsdale arrive in the vicinity of the Old Vic by car," Smith said. "He stood on the corner by the Old Vic in Waterloo Road. Then Houghton and Gee crossed to the pavement where he was standing and walked in a southerly direction along the Waterloo Road."

"Lonsdale followed for some distance, caught up with the others and went between them with his hands and arms on their shoulders for a little distance."

"He then moved to the inside door and took from Gee a small shopping basket which contained two parcels."

Smith arrested them at that point.

Later in the day, Smith told the court, he went to the Kroger home and arrested Mr. and Mrs. Kroger.

Police did not say what was in the parcels Lonsdale took from Miss Gee. Nor was any indication given of the secrets alleged to have been stolen or the foreign power involved. The five are charged under a section of the Official Secrets Act which deals with espionage.

Sophomores Len Auletto of Weehawken, N.J., and Tom Boese of Newark, N.J., are the only out-of-state players on the New York University basketball team.

Moore Outpoints European Champ
PARIS (AP)—Davey Moore, world featherweight champion from Springfield, Ohio, came off the floor to outpoint European titleholder Graciereu Lamperti of France in a non-title 10-rounder at the Palais des Sports Monday night. Moore weighed 127½ pounds, Lamperti 129½.

It was in a wild sixth round that the champion got the business from Lamperti. Lamperti moved in and decked Moore with a smashing left hook.

In the third round, Davey poured in three lefts and a right that put Lamperti on the canvas. The Frenchman took an eight count standing.

In his dressing room, Moore was disappointed.

"He is a good boy and I don't want to take anything away from him," Moore said. "But I just couldn't get warmed up. I couldn't get moving."

Although Lamperti fought a surprisingly good fight the champion seemed always more powerful and in better command. Moore had Lamperti in the third round but he let him get away.

Auburn Whips Mississippi
AUBURN, Ala. (AP)—Auburn's defending Southeastern Conference basketball champions whipped Mississippi 51-40 Monday night, mainly on free throws.

Ole Miss kept Auburn pushed at times to stay ahead, but Auburn gradually widened the lead in the second half.

The Tigers made 15 out of 21 free throws but Ole Miss only got eight shots from the free throw line throughout the game, making six of them.

The two teams were almost even in field goals with Auburn going to the final whistle with an 18-17 margin in shots from the floor. Both teams took plenty of time on their shots and slowed the pace of the game considerably. Mississippi only tried 49 field goals and Auburn 45.

ACCEPT SETTLEMENT
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The American Association Monday accepted a settlement in excess of a half million dollars from the Minnesota Twins for rights to the Minneapolis-St. Paul territory.

The indemnity agreement ended a wrangle of nearly two months and averted what would have been major league baseball's first recourse to arbitration in settling a territorial damage dispute.

Agreement was reached in an exchange of telegrams between President Calvin Griffith of the Twins—formerly the Washington Senators—and American Association directors meeting in Denver.

Two Local Contests Of PMSC Variety; IC Plays At Carthage

Coach Bob Winstead's Routt Rockets and Coach Jim Bonds' ISD Tigers kick off a busy week of basketball with home engagements Tuesday night while Illinois College journeys out of the city to play the Carthage Redmen. Jacksonville High is idle until this weekend, meeting MacArthur at Decatur Friday night before a home game with Robinson Saturday night. MacMurray is also resting tonight but plays at Augustana Wednesday and faces the University of Kansas City Saturday night in the Hardin Ave. fieldhouse.

Coach John Murray brings his Virginia Redbirds to Our Saviour's gymnasium Tuesday for a PMSC tilt with the Rockets at eight o'clock. Virginia, 4-6 for the year, placed third in the Illinois Valley Conference tourney over the holidays while the Rockets garnered second in the Waverly tournament.

Murray will start Bernie Devlin, 5-9, and Gary Reichert, 6-2, at forwards, Wilbert Norris, 6-11, at center, and Merle Ring, 5-10, and Mark Mefford, 5-11, at guards. The Redbirds have lost to Meredosia, to Greenfield twice, Winchester, Petersburg and Triopia. Two wins came at the expense of Pleasant Hill while single victories were earned over Ashland and White Hall. Reichert, who is sporting a 17 point average per game, fouled out in the second chapter against Meredosia.

Winstead plans to start his usual five composed of Fred Curtis, Ed Carroll, Bucky Sullivan, Jack Lawless and Joe Cors. Jim Johnson is also expected to see action. Routt's leading scorer is 5-8 Fred Curtis, who is sporting better than a 20-point average per outing.

Comets At ISD
Coach Don Pape, who is in his first season at the Chandlerlerville, brings his Comets to ISD tonight for a PMSC get-together with Jim Bonds' winless Tigers.

Illinois Deaf has dropped six straight outings while the Comets have registered five wins against five defeats. Chandlerlerville has triumphed over Tallula, Brussels, Perry, Ashland and Balyki while losing to Athens, Easton, Bluffs, Petersburg and Greenview. The other by six points.

Last season, the Blue and White dropped two games to the Red-men, one by two points and the other by six points.

up for the Democrats." Specific disciplinary measures will be discussed, said Pollack, at a caucus Tuesday before the next House meeting.

In the meantime, Powell and his Democratic forces brace for stiff Republican opposition. The GOP holds 89 seats to the Democrats' 88.

Powell's election means Democrats, though technically a minority party, will have chairmanships and majorities of all House committees.

In his inaugural message, Kerner outlined a revenue program calling for a five-fold increase in corporation franchise taxes, a broadening of the sales tax to take in articles now exempt and a stricter collection procedure for taxes now on the books.

He estimated these sources would bring in $130 million a year. One Democratic revenue authority, who declined use of his name, termed this program "Naive."

"When the smoke clears," he told a reporter, "you know there will be a proposal for an increase in the sales tax."

Key senators and House members on both political sides generally agreed with Kerner on his proposal to plug loopholes in the sales tax and to beef up the tax collection staff in order to bring in more revenue from existing levies.

Some sentiment was voiced for action this session on a proposed amendment to the constitution's revenue article, based on studies made in recent years. Kerner hinted that overhaul of the revenue article might be deferred to 1963.

Rep. John Morris, D-Chadwick, chairman of the 1958 House Revenue Committee, said "there is enough information available for this General Assembly to come up with a new revenue article, and I think it's imperative that we do so."

Similar sentiments were expressed by Sen. George Brach of Springfield, Republican majority whip in the upper chamber.

Integration Will Cut Off College Funds

from the governor. Some students had packed and returned to their home for a vacation after hearing that Vandiver would shut the school until the legislature can act to repeal the funds cutoff provision in state law.

Donald L. Hollowell, chief counsel for the Negroes, was reported en route to Macon, Ga., 100 miles south of Atlanta, apparently to seek some new federal court order.

Vandiver announced at midnight Monday that he would cut off operating funds if integration came. State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook flew to Washington to appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court for a last-minute delay.

Vandiver asked the legislature Monday night to repeal the law which would cut off funds to the university.

Vandiver, in tossing the red-hot political potato into the legislature's lap, speculated the university could be reopened within a week—apparently on an integrated basis—if the segregation law is repealed without delay.

"It will not be a party to defiance of the law as many would wish," Vandiver said in referring to U. S. Dist. Judge W. A. Boothe's order to admit the Negroes. The governor said he had every confidence the students at the university would "act as ladies and gentlemen" during the crisis.

May Send Debate On Filibuster Rule From Senate To Committee

The test could come on a move for "the previous question." Vice President Richard M. Nixon already has held that this motion to cut off talk—which is not included in the Senate rules—is applicable to the effort to reduce the number of favorable votes needed to pass a bill.

Two-thirds of those voting must vote approval of a debate limitation. The liberals want to make the number 51 or, as an alternative, three-fifths of those voting.

Mansfield apparently believes the Senate is not going to uphold any Nixon ruling that the "previous question" motion is in order. If the Senate does not, rules change proponents will have to resort to a motion to table (kill) their own resolution to halt any filibuster that Southern opponents might mount.

In that sort of situation, the Democratic leader is expected to urge his colleagues to postpone action while the Senate Rules Committee he heads studies the proposals.

Both Mansfield and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant leader, told their colleagues Monday they hope the Senate can start voting today on some of the issues involved.

In other action Monday, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican Senate leader, introduced $1.10 per hour minimum wage bill.

Dirksen's bill is 15 cents per hour below that in legislation sponsored last year by Kennedy. Kennedy's bill passed the Senate but died as Congress adjourned.

Dirksen said he feared the higher minimum wage and broad coverage favored by Kennedy would have serious effects on the economy.

The President-elect made this clear during the campaign by repeatedly arguing there can be no strength abroad without strength at home.

Indeed, Kennedy contends the image of a vital, expanding America would do much to dispel nagging foreign fears about the dollar.

Even so, he won't be able to let the gold problem slide, particularly since his antirecession measures will tend to raise new questions about the gold situation.

Eisenhower has attacked the payments deficit by curbing federal spending abroad, calling for reducing the number of military dependents overseas, promoting exports, and urging more help from other nations in financing the free world's defenses and development.

Kennedy may make some modifications but won't undo the whole package unless there is a significant reduction in the gold drain. Since foreigners bought more than $370 million of U.S. gold last month, that reduction is yet to come.

Finally, even as he worries about gold and the recession, Kennedy will be pushing for a long-term economic growth program and an attack on the persistent unemployment problem.

In one of the sharpest shifts of policy direction in the economic field, the Eisenhower administration's preoccupation with fighting inflation is expected to be subordinated to new emphasis on full employment and economic expansion.

Says Air Service To Springfield Exceeds Report

The charge was made by Hugh J. Dobbs, representing Springfield at a hearing opened by examiner Curtis G. Henderson.

The airline is seeking authority to abandon service to Springfield and Peoria. Ozark Air Lines, a feeder line supporting the request, has asked for authority to take up the slack by increasing its stops at the two cities.

Dobbs and W. M. Frederick, attorney for Peoria, contended the feeder line's service can not match that provided in the past by the larger airline.

The Illinois Commerce Commission, Dobbs said, has concluded American should be required to continue serving the two downstate points. The state has joined the two cities in opposing the abandonment proposal.

Trading Heavy As Stock Market Tops High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market early this afternoon pushed its way above the recovery peak of last August. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 50 at 225.60 with the industrials up 30, rails up 90 and utilities off 10.

If the gain were held by the close, it would officially put the AP average above the Aug. 24 high of 225.20 and mark a retracement of over-all losses since the second week of January 1960.

Gains of most key stocks were small, only a few going to a point or so. Small losses were scattered through the list. As gains were stretched, the market was having heavy going.

Reinvestment demand following year-end tax-loss selling was still said to be a factor. Underlying sentiment was anticipation of a business rebound by midyear or sooner. Increase in steel production following the holiday slackness was a cheerful note.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.30 to 625.72. Corporate bonds were mixed. Governments were about unchanged. Dealings were slow.

Monday The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.60 to 225.10.

New Berlin FHA Plans Dads Night For January 14

NEW BERLIN—The FHA of the New Berlin high school met immediately after school on Thursday evening in the Home Economics room of the school. The president, Andrea McCullough, called the meeting to order, with Cindy McGinnis, chairman of recreation leading the group in the FHA creed and State Song. Roll call by secretary Marilyn Trimble followed, and a report of the treasury was given by Mary Reichart.

Thula Shepherd gave a report of the toys for children at Christmas time.

Plans were made for the Daddy Date Night to be held by the FHA on Saturday, Jan. 14, from 7:30 p.m. in the school gym. Carol Curtis was named chairman of the event, and will be assisted by Janice Finn, Nancy Marr, and Alice Grider.

The Sweetheart Dance, open to the public, will be held on Saturday evening, Feb. 11, from 8 to 12 in the community room of the high school. It was decided that tickets will be available at 50c for singles, and 75c for couples. Music for the event will be furnished by Jim Shepherd's Combo and the High School Dance Band.

The formal initiation will be held for the freshman initiates, on the evening of Jan. 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the community room. The group voted to hold a door-to-door campaign for the March of Dimes, assisted by the local American Legion Auxiliary, on the afternoon of Sunday, Jan. 29.

At the close of the meeting, the group practiced for the formal initiation.

Miss Dorothy Antey, home economics instructor, is sponsor of the group and is presently assisted by student teacher, Miss Nancy Crump.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

XXVI

They rode out of town after stopping at a saloon where Gentry spent a dollar of his money for a bottle of whisky. He drank steadily until he hit the bottom. Then he gave a yell and threw the bottle as far as he could. Then he fell off a moment later, rolled over and over and across a patch of prickly pear, and finally came to a stop flat on his back, laughing like a man in a minstrel show.

Bart rode up beside him. The bay had stopped and was grazing a quarter of a mile away. Bart said, "Can you get on your feet?"

Gentry was still pretending to laugh, and Bart began to sense something wrong. "What's funny?" he demanded. "Jones wanted you to escape," said Gentry, suddenly sobering. "He told me to tell you that story about Miz Lewis so you would break jail."

Bart considered. It looked as if, to tell the truth, he was in a bad situation no matter what he did. The fact was that Jones had taken the initiative as far as Bart was concerned, and had done it very smartly.

Gentry was standing. His dirty shirt was full of prickly pear thorns, and one hand rested on the butt of the six-shooter, which he had stuck into his waistband.

"And you were supposed to get me to break jail so I would leave the Panhandle and get the blame for whatever he does?"

"You already broke jail," said Gentry, "and you're ready to be blamed."

It was the first time in years he had really lost his temper, and afterward he was sorry he had lost it with Gentry, for Gentry was nothing but a hired man. The only thing was Gentry was so thoroughly obnoxious that Bart saw the smug look of triumph on his face and forgot himself.

He saw Gentry pull the six-shooter from his waistband, and shouted, "Don't do it!" and dodged at the same time. Gentry's shot went wild. Bart shouted, "Stop!" but Gentry shot again.

"I ain't scared of you!" Gentry shouted.

The bullet kicked up dust in Bart's face as he moved. He drew his big six-shooter and fired one shot through Gentry's heart. The man pulled the trigger a third time as he fell, and that bullet jerked at Bart's buckskin vest.

Bart had no shovel and no time. He picked up the six-shooter, turned the man over on his face, and left him.

Late in the afternoon he ran into some Half Moon cattle, and knew where he was.

He stopped at the run-down ranch house. Like Logan was sitting in the shade of a rickety wagon, whittling. "I heard you was in Mobette."

"You can hear anything," said Bart, "if you listen long enough. Can a man get a cup of coffee?"

He was starved, but he would not eat at the Half Moon because he knew Logan would not accept payment, and he was unwilling to take anything away from Logan's children. He was impatient to get on to the Quarter Circle J B, but the black had to have a breather. Logan shooed away the dogs and bawled at the back door. "Put on the coffee, Hep. We got company."

Bart loosened the saddle girth.

"Funny thing," said Logan, still whittling. "Never had no company in years until day before yesterday, and ever since there's been a reg'lar stream. You got the makin'?"

Bart handed him the tobacco sack. "Who?" he asked.

"That feller Murphy — he come back about an hour ago."

"For what?" asked Bart. Logan spoke in a grotesque whisper. "He come to spunk Hepzibah. I told her to have nothin' to do with him; his intentions was no good."

"How did your daughter take it?"

"The youngun has got more spunk than I give her credit for. She ain't never had no man spunkin' for her, Wagner, and she fell for him like a walnut rollin' off a wagon seat on a rough road."

Bart heard a swish, and looked up in time to see Hepzibah throwing dishwater from the back door.

It was easy, of course, to understand the girl. Stuck there on a poor ranch, without clothes, without time even to think of taking care of her looks, she was nevertheless old enough to feel the urge of a woman, and even a casual look from a splendid physical specimen like Murphy was enough to send her blood pressure up.

"Is Mrs. Lewis home?"

"Can't say she is."

"I'm going to take a nap down by the creek," he said. "Will you let me know when Mrs. Lewis comes home?"

"Sure will. I'll send the younguns to watch the road, and I'll keep an eye on the north."

Cadillac

Telling its own story...in silence!

Here's a man who's learning the story of the 1961 Cadillac in the best of all possible ways.

He has taken an hour out—put himself in the driver's seat—and he's letting the car tell the story in its own inimitable way.

And what's the report?

Well, that new Cadillac is making the most eloquent statement on quality and goodness in all motordom—the tribute of silence!

Even on the by-lanes, it is virtually impossible to detect the sounds of a Cadillac in motion.

And implicit in that ever-present silence is a story well worth the retelling.

It speaks, first of all, of magnificent craftsmanship . . . of care so intense that it has eliminated vibration as a necessary accompaniment to motoring.

It testifies to extraordinary soundness of engineering—with a precision in performance that keeps even that great new Cadillac engine down to a hushed whisper even at throughway speeds.

And it tells of truly remarkable styling . . . with a sculptured grace of shape and form that tames the rushing wind to a soft lullaby.

Of course, there are some things which a new Cadillac—with becoming modesty—won't tell about itself. There's its wonderful dependability, for instance, and its unrivaled resale value.

But your dealer will be happy to round out the story after your demonstration drive—and to explain how easily the car could be yours.

Shouldn't you lend an ear to a Cadillac—and a Cadillac dealer—soon?

Women To Find Shopping For Spring Simpler

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—You may find shopping for your new spring outfit simpler this year. Someone else already has picked out the matching ensemble.

The first four members of the New York couture group to show their collections during Fashion Press Week made the point Monday that you can no longer buy a dress all by its lonesome.

If it is a Pauline Trigere, you will come home with a stole, and probably an overblouse, a jacket and a cape as well—with a warning not to mix and match with other costumes.

A Maurice Rentner dress will include a jacket or slim coat with lining of the same dress fabric.

With a Branel creation will be a cashmere sweater, if not a jacket. And with a little number from Harry Frechtel's line you will get a lacy light wood coat wrapped in the same dress box.

Basic daytime dresses or suits from these designers do not differ much from each other in silhouette. All are fluid, sleeveless or short sleeved, sheered gently at the waist. It is what slips over it that signifies the designer and his style.

Put your short jacket of two years ago on backwards and you will get the effect created by Bill Blass in many of his costumes for Maurice Rentner. The front fits closely but not snugly, the collar dips down a bit. The jacket back hangs free from the shoulders.

His skirts are bias cut and softly pleated, often swinging out from hip yokes. For dressier occasions Blass whipped a drier, more capacious bias with deep cowl backs, scarves that drape around the bosom and trail over the shoulder down the back.

The female figures well in Branel's collection, the country's fashion editors here for the semi-annual show noted. Bodices are simple, skirts slim and body conforming, attached to wide bosom-emphasizing waist bands.

A yellow gold silk dress by Branel—with a jacket, naturally—was so subtly fashioned as culottes that it got applause from the surprised audience. Less subtle but starkly honest was a black and white plaid, wide-legged pants dress.

Two-tone costumes created excitement at the show, too. Entire blocks or panels of a dress are contrasted in another unlikely and equally vivid hue.

Miller Proposes Plan For Farm Land Retirement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, Monday suggested that Congress consider a three-point expanded land retirement program for agriculture:

1. Adequate payments to farmers for retiring good acres from production on a voluntary basis with a sliding scale hinged to value of the land.
2. Limiting the amount of productivity which can be retired in certain areas "to keep ghost towns from developing."
3. Protection for tenant farmers on lands which could be retired under the program.

The new Iowa senator, in a meeting with newsmen, also suggested increased farm shipments abroad through the United Nations, a crash research program to find new markets and a requirement to prohibit growing of surplus crops on lands which are made usable by reclamation projects.

Miller expressed belief that some farm legislation would come out of this session of Congress but doubted if such as he suggested could be considered until the next session.

In response to a question, Miller said he could find nothing in the background of Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota to qualify him for secretary of agriculture.

Howard McChesney, new head football coach at Meridian-Simmons University, was a four-year letter man at the school in both football and baseball.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The new report on the number out of work — and especially the prospect that the ranks will grow — will add to the pressure on congress to do something about the jobless problem.

Ten days before he takes office, the president-elect already has been advised by a number of task forces to take steps aimed at various and quite different goals but that also add up to much more federal spending.

And that, at least in theory, usually translates into making more jobs — at least for the time being.

A specific salvo offered for the jobless ailment is an increase in unemployment payments or their extension over longer periods.

An intermediate cure proposed is a cut in income tax payments or a moratorium on withholding taxes. This is aimed at giving consumers more money to spend, thus increasing effective demand for goods and services and as a final result stimulating the hiring of workers.

More government spending would have a longer-term effect, since such projects take time to get under way.

What the president-elect will recommend to Congress, and what the law makers will do about it, remains to be seen.

More defense spending seems sure of being voted. The hassle will be on how to spend the additional funds.

Considerable controversy may greet any proposals by the White House for a large federal outlay for education, whether for teachers' pay or for school construction.

Increased foreign aid spending is favored by those worried by the Communist inroads in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Opponents have a new talking point just now — more foreign aid could boost the deficit in our international payments and lay the base for still more loss of our gold.

The final stake: confidence in the American dollar.

More spending for health and welfare projects, especially just now for medical care for the aging, is being vigorously pushed.

Federal outlays to spur housing construction, more slum clearing projects, increased development of natural resources — all are pushed by various task forces, or by state and local governments, or by private groups dedicated to them.

Even while Congress is considering whatever such requests the new president may pass along, another problem may be rising.

Incoming Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says he wants a balanced federal budget, or at the very least a deficit small enough to add but little to inflationary pressures that would undermine the dollar.

He could find himself in conflict with any Cabinet colleagues who want big spending programs for their departments.

'FRANCIS OF ASSISI'

The life of St. Francis is carefully portrayed in this new film being made in Rome. Actor Bradford Dillman, in monk's robe above, takes the holy man's role. The aristocratic girl he inspires to become a nun is played by Dolores Hart, whose current film, "Where the Boys Are," now is making the theater rounds.

Illinois Legislature Names Powell Speaker Despite G O P Protest

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Paul Powell, a veteran of bare knuckles political scraps, pulled off the boldest power play of his career Monday to become the first minority speaker in the history of the Illinois House.

Riding roughshod over Republican resolves to place Rep. William E. Pollack of Chicago in the speaker's chair, Powell mustered all 88 votes on the Democratic side and one on the Republican.

Rep. Walter C. McAvoy, absent from last week's opening session because of illness, cast his vote for the Vienna Democrat amid a chorus of boos from his fellow Republicans.

"It was all right for me and my fellow Republicans to vote for Powell two years ago," McAvoy declared. "He made a good speaker then and I'm going to vote for him now."

Another Chicago Republican — Michael F. Zlatnik — disgruntled with the GOP caucus choice, kicked over the traces and voted "present" — in effect, a slap at Pollack.

"Pollack attempted to cut short my political career," Zlatnik charged. Rep. Jack Walker of Lansing, one of Pollack's chief supporters, labelled Zlatnik a "Prima Donna."

The roll call showed Powell had 89 votes, a bare majority of all House members, to 85 for Pollack. Republicans hold 89 House seats, Democrats 88.

The session Monday began on an unorthodox note, a sequel to the wildest opening day session in recent legislative history.

At the opening session last Wednesday, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, empowered to preside until a speaker is elected, led Republicans off the floor and recessed the session in an attempt to stave off Powell's election.

Over the weekend, Powell and Carpenter settled their differences and agreed on procedure.

Both Powell and Carpenter said Monday they were acting in the interests of orderly procedure and to prevent any possible illegality to future legislative operations. Powell turned over the gavel to Carpenter. The secretary of state proceeded to call the roll and Powell won, as expected.

As a last-ditch gesture of protest, Republicans stayed off the floor during the early moments of the session. Carpenter, taking note of the vacant GOP seats, said he was "a bit grieved." Later he told a reporter his fellow Republicans had acted "foolishly."

The imminent Republican defeat in the speakership contest was forecast by the continuing absence of Reps. Peter J. Miller of Chicago and John Manning of Rochelle. Both were hospitalized prior to the opening session.

So was Rep. August Ruf of Chicago, who returned Monday to vote for Pollack.

Ruf, McAvoy and Miller hold jobs with the Democratic-controlled Chicago Sanitary District. Republican leaders have suggested they were pressured into staying away with threats they would lose their jobs.

Having lost to Powell, Pollack becomes minority leader of the House. Both contenders announced during the roll call they were dispensing with the protocol of voting for the opposition candidate.

"When things get this close, protocol goes out the window," Powell remarked.

Court Strikes Down Claims Of Dixon-Yates Co.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday struck down an award of $1,867,466 to the Dixon-Yates power combine for damages resulting from President Eisenhower's cancellation of a controversial generating plant contract five years ago.

By a 6-3 vote, the high court upheld a government appeal from the award made by the U. S. Court of Claims.

The Dixon-Yates group, a combine of utility companies, sought payment for expenses incurred before Eisenhower's 1953 decision cancelling the contract for a $100-million steam power plant at West Memphis, Ark. The plant had been intended to serve the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

The Supreme Court decision pivoted on a finding that investment banker Adolph H. Wenzell of New York played an illegal dual role in negotiations for the power contract.

Wenzell served as a consultant to the Budget Bureau during part of the negotiations which led to the signing of the contract in 1944. At that time he also was a vice president of the First Boston Corp., which ultimately became interested in financing the power plant.

Noting that the ruling was based on the conflict-of-interest law, Chief Justice Earl Warren commented that "the moral principle upon which the statute is based has its foundation in the Biblical admonition that no man may serve two masters."

Train Derails In Danville—Three Injured

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A speeding Central & Eastern Illinois Freight train swerved onto a siding in Vermilion County Monday and rammed a line of standing freight cars. Three crewmen were injured.

One of the standing cars, hurled atop the locomotive by the impact, tore the roof from the engine cab. Engineer James Cowan and two other crewmen in the cab, Chester Ballard and LaVerne Wall, were injured by flying metal.

The three men, all of Danville, were taken to a Danville hospital where their conditions were reported not critical.

Authorities said an open switch apparently caused the freight to plunge onto the siding. About 12 cars of the 47-car freight left the tracks.

Kansas has no saloons, even though liquor is legal there.

NEW YORK (AP)—The new report on the number out of work — and especially the prospect that the ranks will grow — will add to the pressure on congress to do something about the jobless problem.

Ten days before he takes office, the president-elect already has been advised by a number of task forces to take steps aimed at various and quite different goals but that also add up to much more federal spending.

And that, at least in theory, usually translates into making more jobs — at least for the time being.

A specific salvo offered for the jobless ailment is an increase in unemployment payments or their extension over longer periods.

An intermediate cure proposed is a cut in income tax payments or a moratorium on withholding taxes. This is aimed at giving consumers more money to spend, thus increasing effective demand for goods and services and as a final result stimulating the hiring of workers.

More government spending would have a longer-term effect, since such projects take time to get under way.

What the president-elect will recommend to Congress, and what the law makers will do about it, remains to be seen.

More defense spending seems sure of being voted. The hassle will be on how to spend the additional funds.

Considerable controversy may greet any proposals by the White House for a large federal outlay for education, whether for teachers' pay or for school construction.

Increased foreign aid spending is favored by those worried by the Communist inroads in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Opponents have a new talking point just now — more foreign aid could boost the deficit in our international payments and lay the base for still more loss of our gold.

The final stake: confidence in the American dollar.

More spending for health and welfare projects, especially just now for medical care for the aging, is being vigorously pushed.

Federal outlays to spur housing construction, more slum clearing projects, increased development of natural resources — all are pushed by various task forces, or by state and local governments, or by private groups dedicated to them.

Even while Congress is considering whatever such requests the new president may pass along, another problem may be rising.

Incoming Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says he wants a balanced federal budget, or at the very least a deficit small enough to add but little to inflationary pressures that would undermine the dollar.

He could find himself in conflict with any Cabinet colleagues who want big spending programs for their departments.

Hagerty Resigns Post At White House, Goes To ABC

NEW YORK (AP)—James C. Hagerty, press secretary who leaves the White House with President Eisenhower Jan. 20, said Monday he is taking John Daly's old job at the American Broadcasting Co.

Hagerty and Leonard H. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting - Paramount Telecasters, Inc., announced the long-rumored appointment at a joint news conference.

The White House press chief will become vice president in charge of news, special events and public affairs at ABC at an undisclosed salary which he described as a very handsome sum.

Hagerty said, however, that his White House job paid $21,000 a year.

He will take over on Jan. 23 the network job which Daly resigned in November in a dispute with ABC executives whom he described as newcomers to news broadcasting.

Charging some ABC executives did not know the difference between informing the public and promotion, Daly said recently: "Too many of them have come directly from the entertainment field into the medium, and all they're interested in is the dollar."

Hagerty said he thought there would be a change of climate in news reporting at ABC under his leadership.

Goldenson said Hagerty would have the full cooperation of network officials in this effort and that ABC plans to expand its world-wide news coverage considerably.

Hagerty said he had many other job offers but took the ABC post because he wanted to get back into the news business and thought TV news coverage would make "fantastic" strides in the next few years.

He was a political reporter on The New York Times before becoming press secretary to then Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in 1943. He has been Eisenhower's press chief since the 1952 campaign.

Hagerty's formal Jan. 20 resignation from the White House job was disclosed in Washington earlier Monday.

In his letter of resignation, Hagerty called the President his "constant teacher in the affairs of government," adding: "For myself I have been—and always will be—extremely proud to have served as a member of your personal staff."

"I only hope that I have been able to absorb to some degree the great wisdom, forbearance and understanding that have always guided your actions as president of the United States."

Eisenhower's letter accepting the resignation called Hagerty too generous in the reference to the President as a teacher and described Hagerty's services as invaluable.

Dirksen Urges Study Of Trade, Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Creation of a presidential commission to study the influence of foreign trade on U.S. business was urged Monday by 18 Republican senators.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., offered the resolution with a comment that "increasing competition of foreign made goods in the American market has become one of the growing challenges of our time."

He said the first step in solving the national and international problems resulting from this situation would be "to have an objective study and survey of the whole problem by trained and competent persons, mainly outside of government, who have a vital concern in the problem."

The same resolution, calling for creation of a 12-member commission to be appointed by the President and authorizing one million dollars for its operation, failed to win Senate approval last year.

Polish Leaders Unwilling To Tell Farm Damage

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Well-informed sources say Poland's agriculture was harder hit by drought and floods last year than Polish leaders are willing to admit—even to their Communist allies, who have criticized Poland's failure to collectivize the peasantry.

The government-controlled press asserts Polish farmers, who privately own 85 per cent of this country's arable land, brought in the best crops in history despite adverse weather.

These claims are in sharp contrast with recent admissions of generally poor crops in the Soviet Union, Red China and other Communist countries where agriculture is collectivized.

There are indications that Polish Communist leaders, fearful of increased pressure from other Communist states to collectivize, decided three months ago to minimize farm losses.

Thieves Abandon Loot From Arenzville Office

Educators Hear Iowa Plan For Special Classes

The director of a four-county joint class system surrounding Cedar Rapids, Iowa, explained the operation of such a program Tuesday morning at a meeting at the Triple Flame steak house.

County superintendents of schools and their assistants from 19 counties held a district meeting Tuesday to discuss the possibility of two or more counties combining efforts to conduct special classes for handicapped and gifted children.

Wilfred Rice, Morgan county superintendent of schools, was host for the meeting.

L. W. Hinton, Sangamon county superintendent of schools, said the County Superintendent of Schools Association plans to support a recommendation authorizing county offices to set up and administer joint agreements between districts for the purpose of establishing special classes.

The group hopes such legislation will be introduced at the present session of the General Assembly, according to Hinton.

Under the proposed system, there would be one class for special students from several districts in one county or for students from two or more counties. Such a system would enable smaller districts to adequately handle gifted and handicapped children.

The Jacksonville meeting was adjourned shortly after lunch.

Members of the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and Junior Lodge of Jacksonville collected $337.65 in donations from the public on January 3 "Blue Crutch Day" staged on behalf of the 1961 March of Dimes Campaign.

The announcement was made by the local directors of the lodges, of the tag day which helped launch the current March of Dimes fund appeal.

The directors of the lodges hailed the work of the volunteer members of the fraternal organizations who sold blue plastic crutches on street corners last week to aid the March of Dimes toward its national goal of $45-million for the battle against crippling diseases.

The local members were among some 65,000 members of the organization, who participated in the volunteer effort throughout Illinois.

ARENZVILLE—Thieves were successful in gaining entrance late Monday night or early Tuesday morning in the office building of the Arenzville-Hagener Farmers Grain Elevator, but abandoned their loot across the road from the site.

Cass county sheriff Howard Omer of Virginia and deputy Alvin Reichart, Arenzville, found a calculator and typewriter, identified by Elevator Manager Charles Schnitzer as having been taken from the office, not many feet away from the building, which is independent from the elevator structure.

The village night watchman, Orville Blum, notified Cass county authorities of the break-in at 4 a.m. Tuesday. Investigation showed an attempt also made to gain entrance to the Nobis Tavern at Arenzville. Marks showed there indicated the storm door at the front of the building was pried open but the man or men did not prove successful in opening the main door to the establishment.

Entrance at the elevator office was made by the front door.

The grain elevator is in the west edge of Arenzville.

After inventory manager Schnitzer reported he could find nothing else disturbed in the elevator office. There was no money in the cash register at the time of entry.

Calls Billions For School Aid 'Only Minimum'

CHICAGO (AP)—The president of the American Federation of Teachers said Monday a multi-billion dollar federal school aid proposal handed President-elect John F. Kennedy last week represents "only the minimum" needed to help U. S. education.

Carl J. Megel of Chicago, head of the AFL-CIO teachers group and a member of Kennedy's campaign committee on education, said federal school aid is overdue. He urged Congress to enact the proposed program as a priority measure.

A study committee headed by Dr. Frederick Hovde, president of Purdue University, submitted to Kennedy Friday a proposal to provide $7.2 billion in federal funds in the next four years for schools.

Megel said the program, which would augment teacher salaries, contains "only the minimum pump priming amount of money needed to start modernization of American education."

Megel addressed a dinner of about 100 members of the Chicago Teachers for Kennedy, a group that supported the President-elect.

Dollars Grow For Restaurant Owner Here

Who says dollars do not grow? Well, maybe not on trees, but for Raymond Woods, owner of the Red Wood Inn on North Sandy dollars have been growing for the past two weeks.

Mr. Woods serves a considerable following of breakfast, coffee break and lunch customers every day who enjoy either the food, service or both, very much.

Woods is assisted by his wife and eight children in the operation of the restaurant. He took off for several weeks in September for a needed surgical operation; and again in December for a second round with the surgeon. The recent operation brings his total to eleven. He has long since been dropped by insurance companies.

Faith in the future hasn't kept Woods or his customers down for long. Two weeks ago, C. L. Birdsell, one of many customers, hung a dollar bill on a wire with his name on it. Since that time many customers have followed suit in an effort to help defray the expenses of hospital and doctor bills.

"You can hardly see the menu because of the money hanging on the wire, but we don't mind bending over just a little," one regular customer commented Tuesday morning.

The fund has grown to considerable size and is still increasing.

Happy Democrats Whoop It Up At Inaugural Ball

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Thousands of happy Democrats whooped it up at the inaugural ball of Gov. Otto Kerner Monday night, celebrating the return of Democrats to the Statehouse after eight years of Republican control.

Kerner and his wife, Helena, opened the evening's festivities in the state armory as they stepped through a wall of cheers of an overflow crowd.

The state's new first couple and other top Democrats were the center of attraction to the estimated 15,000 who jammed the armory and the rotunda of the state capitol building.

Enthusiasm of the crowd was undiminished despite the belated arrival of the Kerner family. The Kerner family arrived at the armory, decked out for the occasion with flowers, bunting and plans.

Accompanying the Kerner family to the stage were such party dignitaries as Sen. Paul Douglas, former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, former Gov. John Stille and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

Among those introduced to the crowd before the arrival of Kerner were Lt. Gov. Samuel Shapiro, Atty. Gen. William C. Clark, State Auditor Michael Howlett and Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, the lone Republican state official to win re-election last Nov. 8.

Kerner assumed his new role as Illinois' chief executive from William G. Stratton, the outgoing governor, at inauguration ceremonies Monday.

The three Democrats and Carpenter also received their oaths of office at the ceremony in the armory.

'SIGHTSEERS' LOG IN BRILLE THEIR JETLINER CRUISE

CHICAGO (AP)—Thirteen young "sightseers" logged in braille their jetliner cruise over the Chicago area Monday.

Craig Lynch, 11, of Chicago, one of the 13 blind children on the special flight, said during take-off: "I can tell we're going up fast! I tickle inside."

Senses of touch and hearing, developed to compensate for useless eyes, guided the youngsters to many observations.

"Like the rides at an amusement park," said Mary Ann Bartkowski, 12, of Chicago.

"It was like a bus with the wheels humming," said Leonard Spichak, 15, of Glenview.

"The youngsters tell exactly what they see in a way we couldn't do," principal Elberta Pruitt commented. "I guess we're too old."

She referred to the six sighted school children assigned as guides for their 13 companions.

The guides described "fluffy white clouds—like big mounds of ice cream" as the liner traveled over South Bend, Ind., and Benton Harbor, Mich.

Cong. Findley Will Work To Eliminate Stockpiles Of Grain

By RICHARD WESLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., said today his major aim as a new congressman will be to work toward eliminating present huge stocks of government-owned grain.

"These are a constant and ever-present threat to farm prices which must be eliminated if we are to free agriculture from government bondage," Findley said.

The 39-year-old Pittsfield publisher said he is preparing to introduce a bill which could dispose of the present 1½ billion bushel corn surplus in a single growing season. Similarly, he said, the U. S. wheat surplus could be eliminated in a few seasons.

At the core of his proposal, he said, is a plan to sell the surplus grain back to producers at an attractive price in exchange for land retirement agreements.

The bill would set the price for the grain at slightly less than the cost of production, with each participant buying an amount of surplus grain equal to his farm's historic production and taking the land out of production for that season.

Findley, who won the Illinois seat vacated by Rep. Edna Simpson, R., who retired, said he hopes to be assigned either to the House Foreign Affairs or Agriculture committees.

"I want to follow a conservative path here," he said, "I like to be considered a conservative and I'm sure my voting record is going to bear that out."

Findley said he is convinced too much authority has been concentrated in the hands of the federal government.

"For one thing," he said, "I'm sure that almost every state is perfectly capable of meeting the welfare needs of its people."

Findley is publisher of two weekly newspapers—the Pike County Republican at Pittsfield and the Independent Press at Griggsville.

FIND DISARMED WORLD WAR I SHELL IN RIVER

HURST, Ill. (AP)—Army ammunition experts and Hurst firemen have recovered and disarmed a World War I artillery shell from the Big Muddy River.

The 35-pound shell, apparently was discarded as a souvenir and thrown from the bridge years ago. It was discovered imbedded in mud Friday by Jack Leach of Blairsville. Leach was canoeing on the river.

M. Sgt. Henry Faeth and Sgt. John Glassford of the Granite City Arms Depot said the shell probably was fired in this country from a French or British weapon.

Faeth said during World War I U. S. troops trained with European weapons which they would use overseas. The fuse on the shell was bent and the black powder charge would not fire.

Glassford and Faeth said picking up war souvenirs is one of their main jobs.
